

Earth Hour
March 27th, 2010
8:30pm

Last year nearly one billion people participated in Earth hour, including many students from Sleepy Hollow. This year the World Wildlife Fund and Sleepy Hollow are hoping it will grow the movement to over two billion people world wide. Take part in Earth Hour 2010, as part of the world's first global election between Earth and global climate change.

National Monuments such as Mount Rushmore, the Empire State Building, the Great Pyramids, The Eiffel Tower, the Las Vegas Strip, and the Golden Gate Bridge have already signed up to take part in Earth Hour.

If you would like to be a part of Earth Hour, on Saturday March 27th at 8:30pm turn off all lights and electronics at your house and enjoy the dark for one hour. This will save a massive amount of greenhouse gases leading to a healthier planet and draw attention to the “global climate change” cause.
